Notable Session Of U. S. Congress Being Concluded

Congress Session Ending Today
Made Transition From War To Peace Conditions

VITAL ACTION ON MANY PROBLEMS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The Senate adopted a resolution adjourning the first session of the 79th Congress upon completion of work this afternoon.

The adjournment resolution now goes to the house for consideration.

The second session will be convened January 14.

By Arthur F. Hermann
U. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Congress today ends one of the busiest and most important sessions of its history at the close of a year which took the nation from war to peace and from one federal administration to another.

Both the House and Senate met briefly and then quit until January 14.

Momentous Start

The 79th session began with the nation involved in a life and death struggle with enemies of the earth. The session was opened on January 4, a few days before the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt took the oath of office for his fourth consecutive term in the White House.

In the succeeding months the Senate and House legislated huge sums to carry on the war effort. They weathered the shock of President Roosevelt's sudden death in Warm Springs on April 12, and fell behind the new president, Harry S. Truman, in his endeavor to carry on the war to a successful conclusion.

Start Reconversion

With the end of hostilities against Germany in June, Congress took steps, along with other government agencies, to begin reconversion.

Effort To Influence Parley Talks Seen In Red Moves

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Russian moves during the current Moscow conference of foreign ministers today are being undertaken to influence the present talks.

Little information regarding the progress of the Moscow discussions was available publicly in Washington. But acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson has made the statement that Secretary of State James F. Byrnes is keeping this capital well informed on the matters under discussion and the progress of the talks.

Byrnes Believed In Close Communication With President Truman

Since Byrnes departed for Moscow, Russia has made these moves:

Decisive Intervention By President Truman On Prices, Profits Clears Atmosphere

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Decisive intervention by President Truman cleared the atmosphere today in the General Motors strike, and opened the way for a possible resumption of collective bargaining between the parties to the month-old walkout.

Gen. Patton Dies Today In Hospital At Heidelberg
In Germany

TOOK TURN FOR WORSE IN NIGHT

(BULLETIN)

HEIDELBERG, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Gen. George S. Patton Jr. died in the 130th Station hospital at Heidelberg today.

Gen. Patton died at 5:50 p. m. (11:50 a. m. EST).

The colorful field commander of the famed U. S. Third Army during the war had been hospitalized since December 9 when his neck was fractured in an auto crash near Mannheim.

His personal sedan smashed head on into an Army two-and-a-half ton truck when the general was en route for a Sunday morning pheasant hunt.

HEIDELBERG, Dec. 21.—(INS)—

The condition of Gen. George S. Patton Jr. today was serious but the recovery is grave.

An official army bulletin declared at 9 a. m. this morning (3 a. m. EST).

Gen. Patton's condition has taken a serious turn for the worse due to a pulmonary condition, pneumonia.

The former third army commander's condition had been increasing steadily during the past few days until he was reported yesterday to have been disturbed by stomachic secretions.

The 60-year-old man had been suffering from a broken neck in an automobile crash in the Rhineland near Mannheim Dec. 9.

His fractured neck had been placed in a plaster cast and was reported to have been satisfactory.

A physician close to the Patton case told International News Service that the gravity of the general's condition was "not exaggerated in the official bulletin."

Patton was completely paralyzed from the base of the neck down, and when his sedan and an Army truck crashed head-on as the general was returning from a pheasant hunt with his chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Robert Gay.

PA NEW OBSERVES

According to the calendar today is the shortest day of the year, meaning that the smallest amount of daylight of any day in the year is occurring today.

City snow plays have been busy on a lot of streets that are much travelled, Pa. News notes.

Rush at the post office seems to be subsiding somewhat. The lobby was less crowded than during recent days, on Thursday afternoon by patrons.

School authorities who have been confronted with large numbers of absentees in the class rooms for several weeks due to the flu situation, are expecting that after the holidays attendance will get back near normal. Schools are closing today for the holiday vacation.

Shovelling snow from the sidewalks during the past week has become almost a continuous performance for some householders. At other properties snow has been cleared from sidewalks at all. Pa. News notes.

Snowbound northeastern states and shivering points west may take this skeptically but—winter will not arrive officially until tomorrow, when the sun's vertical rays will beat directly down on the Tropic of Capricorn and slowly start moving north again.

The first new post-war airplane off the assembly line, a Taylorcraft, has arrived at the New Castle airport, according to Findley Wilson, manager of the port. The new 65 H. P. plane has been purchased by Selvin Lewis of New Wilmington and it has a speed of 100 m. p. h. Mr. Lewis expects to make business trips in the plane.

Mrs. J. Mansfield, R. D. No. 1, Conneaut Lake, Pa., writes to Pa. News: Saw your request for the right way to cook deer meat. Recipe is as follows: Remove all skin from the meat, then cut into medium sized pieces, place in cooking vessel to which has been added several medium sized pieces of fat salt pork. Cook in same manner as pot roast, on top of stove. Cook slow until real tender. Stir occasionally, adding small amounts of water to keep real moist. Season to taste with salt and pepper. It's delicious. My father was a hunter and learned this recipe from one of his guides in Canada years ago.

Secrecy Still Unbroken On Moscow Parley

MOSCOW, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The big three foreign ministers today held their sixth session of the current conference on world problems with U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes presiding.

Again there was no official word as to the subjects under discussion but it was known the British and American foreign ministers went to the Spiridonovka conference room after studying published Soviet territorial demands on Turkey.

No official statement whatever was issued after the two hour and 20 minute session in Moscow's Spiridonovka palace yesterday. A friendly attitude reportedly has prevailed throughout the conference.

Standard Steel Springs Company Christmas Party

Approximately 100 of the supervisory and clerical force of the Standard Steel Spring Company and families enjoyed their fourth annual Christmas party Thursday night, December 20 in The Castleton Hotel.

There was no sluffed air of formality about the affair. It was a night for fun and the Spring men acted as the toastmaster of the evening and introduced the plant manager, Thomas C. McClain who spoke briefly. The balance of the program was a sort of "Truth and Consequences" program with everybody winning a laugh.

Dancing in the ball room concluded the evening's program. Mrs. Olive Webb was the chairman of the party.

Radiator Company Employees Annual Christmas Party

Employees of the National Radiator Company and their families will hold their annual Christmas party tonight in the Scottish Rite Cathedral. The program will get under way at 7:15 p. m. and will conclude with the appearance of Santa Claus who will distribute small favors to the children.

Dancing in the ballroom will start at 9:00 p. m. and continue until 12 midnight.

Other diversions will be maintained throughout the evening. John P. Griffith is chairman and Arnold Satz co-chairman of the event.

Declares Jap Fleet Could Have Been Smashed At Hawaii

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Admiral Richmond K. Turner declared today that America's Pacific fleet could have smashed the Japanese task force at Pearl Harbor if it had been on the alert.

Turner told the Pearl Harbor committee that he and other Westinghouse naval chiefs had the "utmost confidence" in Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and believed his Hawaiian command to be prepared to repel an attack.

But he disclosed that as late as Dec. 6, 1941, Vice Admiral F. S. Wilkinson, the navy's intelligence chief, did not agree with his conviction that Japan would attack the United States.

He was asked by Rep. Cooper, "Do you think that several million lives could have been saved by a more aggressive action?"

Yes, sir, we could have inflicted very serious damage on the Japanese fleet," Turner replied.

The dead were listed by police as Raymond Phillips, eight; Clifford Atkinson, 67, and Charles Aldrich, 79. Their bodies were found in three different rooms.

Battalion Chief Frank Conroy said that the 17-room residence which housed 15 persons was blazing when the fire department was called on a delayed alarm.

Several residents dropped from second-story windows to escape from the fire-filled structure.

PHILADELPHIANS LOSE THEIR SHIRTS

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—(INS)—A cool number of Philadelphians lost their shirts today, and the verses had nothing to do with it.

"Every shirt my husband had was in there," wailed one woman.

But neglected to point out what she intended wearing while the shirts were being laundered.

The table is piled with bundles and there's mystery in the air. December is along toward evening and Christmas is in her hair. Tinsel and holly and pine boughs and reborn trees and lights and stockings with cherry messages stick ones and green ones and blue. The tree is up in the living room, waiting for number one and will get it down in a day or so. On this Christmas eve I guess I lose all the noise and confusion the bells of the kids as they play, let the bells come along a week later. I'm having it all day a man. It's the season for planning and mystery, for time for a good drinked tree, it's the time for the kids and the old folks, the weather is cool, twenty-five.

northern Iran of a separate government as the result of a revolution against the established regime in the country.

2. Published long documents in the government controlled press arguing for the annexation of parts of Turkey adjacent to the Black Sea and the Georgian Soviet Republic.

The first move faced Byrnes with an accomplished fact on a matter which had been a subject of diplomatic discussion between the two countries. The United States took the position that the major powers had pledged Iran's sovereignty and independence and that they should remain aloof from any internal disturbance.

Iran Question

The question of Iran was considered high on the agenda of the present meeting but, under the Moscow announcement, was a closed problem when Byrnes arrived there.

The publication of treatise arguing for the independence or annexation of parts of Turkey was regarded as a diplomatic move directed at forcing some agreement on the future of the Dardanelles, vital gateway from the Black Sea to the Mediterranean.

The Dardanelles question was brought up at the Potsdam "Big Three" meeting and again at the London council of the Five Power foreign ministers. In each it proved too tough a nut to crack. Little doubt existed in Washington that it would again be discussed at the present conference.

The Russian position, threatening to take parts of Turkey, was not viewed as particularly important as affecting Turkey itself. But some informed quarters have maintained that such a move would be suspected by the Moslem world and might touch off difficulties in the near and middle East.

Ivan the Terrible of Russia is said to have proposed marriage to Queen Elizabeth of England in the 16th century, but she declined his offer.

agencies to slow down the industrial tempo for war, and after the Japanese victory in August, made the unprecedented move of cancelling more than fifty-two billion dollars in unused war appropriations.

The 79th Congress was unique in the field of federal taxation. It was the first congressional body in six years to reduce rather than increase taxes. It legislated a six billion dollar tax cut for both individuals and corporations.

As an investigative body, the first session of the 79th Congress tackled the politically significant investigation of the causes behind the tragedy of Pearl Harbor.

Some of Investigations

Congress also investigated the financial transactions of the former president's son, Elliott Roosevelt, probed the United States foreign policy toward China as the investigation of former Ambassador Melvin B. Eastman, and inquired into the treatment of ex-servicemen in the nation's veterans hospitals.

In the field of international relations, the Congress overwhelmingly voted the nation into membership in the United Nations organization to maintain future peace and approved the president's appointment of delegates to the international organization.

Congress also ratified the Bretton Woods financial agreements, appropriated and authorized additional millions of dollars for the UNRRA and extended lend-lease and reciprocal trade agreement laws.

Much Unfinished

It refused to enact Mr. Truman's recommendations for anti-strike legislation; a universal service training law; revisions of the unemployment compensation law; and the presidential succession bill.

It failed to complete work on full employment legislation, or repeal of the Johnson Act prohibiting loans to foreign countries who owe World War One debts—both called for by the president.

Among its outstanding legislative acts, the Congress voted to continue price control until mid-May 1946; extended the draft law until May 15, liberalized the "G. I. bill of rights"; approved a government reorganization program; and increased the statutory debt limit to 300 billion dollars.

were lodged against him. Police said he denied any connection with the slaying.

One bullet struck Bowman in the head and the other ripped through the woman's chest. Both were pronounced dead upon arrival at a hospital.

Mrs. Barnak was the mother of two children, Julian, 28 months, and Frederick, 18 months. Her father said she married Barnak five years ago and operated from him two months ago for the fourth time.

Police quoted Barnak as saying he had visited Alberman Ted Miller last night to discuss a suspect case brought by Mrs. Barnak. Schiffer and his daughter had instituted divorce proceedings.

Detectives said another couple, whom they did not identify, visited a night club with Mrs. Barnak last night and that they met Bowman there. The couple reportedly dropped Mrs. Barnak and the veteran off at the Schiffer home, and then drove up the street to make a U-turn.

As the couple drove back down the street, they heard two shots and saw the pair drop as a man in a slouch hat fled, according to police.

Bowman was a student at Lehigh university.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The current coffee shortage in Western Pennsylvania is expected to end soon after the first of the year, Pittsburgh wholesalers today disclosed.

The wholesalers blamed the shortage on OPA controls on imports from coffee producing countries. They estimated that six million 132-pound bags of coffee will be imported between now and March.

OLD FASHIONED YULE PARTY FOR NURSES

In an old-fashioned setting of holly, pine, and mistletoe, in the auditorium of the Jameson Nurses home Thursday evening, more than 100 student and staff nurses gathered for a Christmas party.

Low Pearsall, veteran of many a New Castle show, in a robe costume out of this world gave a series of jokes and brought the house down with his vocal number "I'm Goin' Back."

DeLace Cole, in a black and white checked suit, top hat, cane, red necktie, and patent leather shoes, in his inimitable way, delighted the nurses with a number of humorous Christmas recitations including one of his own composition, "Father and His Socks."

Later in the evening, he gave again to the group's evident delight, "Aunt Samantha at the Opera," and closed with the musical numbers, "Little Old Lady Passing By" and "Alice Blue Gown."

Another New Castle favorite, Arch Cribbison, at the piano played a group of Gershwin and Cohen numbers, dedicating each to one of the nurses present.

Carols were sung with Miss Ruth Wilson, class 48, as leader, followed by Miss Helen Vancouver, 36 and Miss Lucile Walters, 47 singing "Silent Night" with Miss Lauretta Garver, 47 as accompanist.

Santa Claus, in the person of Ray Hall with sleigh bells jingling appeared, presumably from down the chimney, and led group in singing "Jingle Bells," then distributed gifts. Refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table centered with a cake in the shape of a miniature house. Tall red tapers, pine, and holly completed the table decorations.

Miss Charlotte Savage, dietitian, and Mrs. James Gilliland, house mother, assisted the nurses' committee in serving.

U.S. Takes Over Secrets Of Closed Jap Embassy

WASHINGTON Dec. 21.—(INS)—United States took over on Thursday the long-hidden and now musty secrets behind the barred doors of the once-proud Japanese embassy.

It has been four years since the imposing white stone building, the most pretentious on embassy row, was closed since the first bombs fell on Pearl Harbor, no American foot has stepped inside. Ceremonies today are the symbol of defeat which its arrogant tenants did not foresee when they left it.

It was here that Tokyo's "great" envoy, Nomura Kuniyuki, played his diplomatic stunts even while his home fleet steamed toward Hawaii with orders to strike.

Envoys Dash Back

He and his ambassador, Kichisaburo Nomura, dashed back to its luxurious, silk-draped walls, after delivering their government's rejection of Secretary of State Cordell Hull's terms. They arrived inside before a startled Washington fully realized that war had already begun.

Immediately on their arrival, a screaming bedlam broke out. Popping-eyed Japs dashed out onto the steel-barred and close-clipped lawn, laden with steel boxes of documents. Before startled onlookers, they poured gunpowder over the papers and set them afire.

By nightfall, all of the staff was locked inside while muttering crowds gathered without.

Victories Made Japs Bold

Victories in the Far East soon made the militants bold. No American, under the terms of international law, could enter. But the Japs hired a private detective to stand guard inside their door and sent out daily for cases of liquor and food. The noise of the revelry could be heard late at night.

Then they were moved to Hot Springs, Va., and the Spanish embassy took over. United States has since paid an estimated $7,000 monthly for upkeep. When Madrid broke relations with Tokyo last spring the Swiss legation took over.

At the time of the change, two members of the Spanish embassy were found prowling through the Jap premises after forcing entry. They explain they had forgotten to ask permission from the State department and said they were only making an inventory of the furnishings.

The State department hopes, through gaining possession of the

New Castle Man Views Ruins Of Nagasaki En Route Home After Jap Surrender

Theodore Paul Kolcz, Seaman 1-C, has returned to his home in New Castle after serving two years in the U. S. Navy, 20 months of it overseas duty in the Pacific aboard the U. S. S. Cruiser Boston, having received his honorable discharge.

Seaman Kolcz took his basic at Great Lakes after entering the service then was assigned to cruiser duty, serving as an aerial gunner. He has eight battle ribbons attesting to a number of major engagements and was only 50 miles from the Japanese mainland when the Japs surrendered.

Saw Nagasaki Ruins

Kolcz relates that following the surrender, his ship visited several Japanese cities, principally Tokyo, which he declares is a badly bombed city. Yokohama, Sasebo, Yokohama, and Nagasaki, and of the latter city one of the two to feel the wrath of the atomic bomb. Kolcz says that nothing but desolation for miles greets the eye from Nagasaki Harbor. "The damage to the once great Japanese naval station is utterly indescribable," Kolcz relates. Kolcz hit the States from the Far Pacific on November 30th, landing at Seattle, Washington, and being discharged from the Sampson Naval Training Station in New York state on December 15. He is the husband of Mrs. Helen Kolcz and they reside at 68 Bluff street. Prior to entering the service he was an employee of the Johnson Bronze company.

Camp Reynolds Closing January 3

Major General Philip Hayes of the Third Service Command announced today that Camp Reynolds at Greenville, Mercer county will close January 3.

Three other similar establishments in the Third Service Command will also discontinue operations January 3, it was reported.

Lawrence Transfer Company Roof To Be Marked With City Name And Other Information

Permission has been granted by officials of the Lawrence Transfer company to have the roof of their building, located at South and South Beaver streets, used as a direction and location reminder for passing airplane pilots who may not be certain of their position as they pass over the city, it is announced.

Findley Wilson, manager of the local airport, requested the use of the large roof on the downtown structure, so that the name "New Castle" in large letters, the latitude and longitude and a large arrow pointing to the airport could be painted thereon.

The Pennsylvania State Aeronautical Commission will furnish the material for the job, which includes a large marker and the necessary paint to complete the task.

Mr. Wilson has requested additional data from the commission so that other towns in this area might follow New Castle's example and thus aid in preventing crashes of stranded airmen.

Would Divide Reich Territory

Permanent Separation Of The Rhineland, Ruhr, And Palatinate From Germany Urged

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The Foreign Economic Administration on Thursday recommended the permanent separation of the Rhineland, Ruhr and Palatinate from Germany.

In its final advisory report, the FEA agency branch urged the United States to negotiate an agreement with allied powers providing for:

1. Permanent detachment of the Rhineland, Ruhr and Palatinate from the German Reich.

2. The removal from these territories of existing owners and managers of natural resources and productive facilities important to war and the substitution therefore of an internationally-owned and operated public authority.

3. The removal from the detached areas of all but the portion of the population known to be anti-Nazi and actively sympathetic with the economic policy of the United Nations regarding Germany.

4. The establishment of the detached areas by a United Nations mandate responsible to the general international organization.

The FEA explained that it advocated a public authority for the Rhineland, Ruhr and Palatinate to manage and control the resources and facilities of those territories on behalf of the United Nations.

IF THEY FEEL LIKE IT

NUERNBERG, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The 21 Nazi defendants at the war crimes trial will get no special Christmas privileges except the right to attend religious services on Christmas Day.

They will be allowed to sing carols on Christmas eve.

EXPRESS HOLIDAY SPIRIT MAKE DECORATIONS TO

It's Christmas again, a time for interesting decorations. Greens and red ribbon to make your appearance both outside and inside of the house.

To express the true Christmas spirit, use decorations with restraint. This may best be accomplished if a decorative plan is made before greens and berries are collected. Include in the plan an attractive piece that will center attention on the outside door and one outstanding decoration for indoors.

For the outside door piece, a basket of evergreens with rich brown pine cones, a neat swag of branches, or a fluffy wreath of evergreens will present an unusual picture. A bright red ribbon bow tied on the decoration will make it more cheerful. There is now available a waterproof ribbon that will stand up under bad weather. For an extra holiday note, a cluster of small bells may be tucked into the branches.

The most elaborate decoration will most likely go indoors. This may be a large tinsel tree or a mantelpiece of evergreen branches and candles. If there is no tree or mantel to decorate, a large arrangement of pine branches will be just the thing for the living room. With the branches, use a cluster of silver or colored bells, the size of the bells depending upon the size of the arrangement.

THOSE JAPANESE DOPES

OKTA, Kyushu, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Signs posted by the 32nd Division provost marshal fixing a 35-mile speed limit for automobiles created consternation in Okta.

The turmoil lasted until the army was able to explain to Japanese drivers that the figure was the maximum for minimum, and that they could drive slower.

President Hopes For Reduction Of Expenditures

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—President Truman announced Thursday that he will soon make a systematic review of government agencies to increase efficiency and economy.

The president made his announcement in a statement issued in the White House announcing that he signed the bill reorganizing government agencies.

The president said that he anticipates the reorganization act will make possible "some reductions" in administrative expenditures, but that it is improbable that the 25 percent reduction proposed by the act will be possible under its provisions.

"I wish to point out, also, that administrative expenditures are only a small proportion of the cost of government," the president said. "Substantial savings in government expenditures can come only from reductions in the governmental programs themselves, and these are made as a rule through the normal budgetary and appropriations processes, not through reorganization action."

Father Of Thirteen Ends Army Service

Ex-Private First Class Wilbert Fleury Returns Home And Resumes Mail-Carrying

PORT HURON, Mich., Dec. 21.—(INS)—Everything was in a "flit and flurry" at the Gilbert Fleury residence in Port Huron today, for "Pops" was home to stay.

Thirty-nine-year-old Wilbert Fleury, the army's champion father, has returned to his 13 children and $200 a month mail carrier's job.

Ex-Pfc. Fleury was assigned to the army post office in San Francisco as a postal clerk where he received $352 a month in allotments.

Returning to his civilian mail-bag route, "Pops" will suffer a $1,734 annual cut in his salary.

"Pops" declared that he's "glad to be home," as the 13 little Fleuries swarmed about him.

Mrs. Fleury reported that the family plans to buy its own home from the money saved during the war.

Reconversion Will Need Three Billion Tons Of Soft Coal

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—(INS)—More than a billion tons of coal will be needed during the next three reconversion years to get the consumer commodities off the assembly lines, it was disclosed today by the Koppers Coal company.

Bituminous coal will supply 60 per cent of the mechanical and 65 per cent of all the electrical energy needed, the company said. Ninety per cent of all rail transportation will be coal powered.

A spokesman for the concern said 25 tons of coal will be required for the manufacture of materials used in the construction of five million planned homes.

The automobile industry alone will require at least 1,125,000 tons of coal for the anticipated production of 15 million cars.

During the war, coal furnished the base for 85 per cent of all plastic products.

Man Found Dead On River Island

HARRISBURG, Dec. 21.—(INS)—A dead man discovered on an island in the Susquehanna river at Harrisburg was identified as Michael Tantara, 77, of 2125 Penn. street, Pittsburgh.

Dauphin County Assistant Coroner Frank Heidel said death was caused by a heart attack. The body was discovered by a boathouse tender lying face down in water behind a ball park fence.

Identity, found on an envelope in the corpse, was verified by Pittsburgh police, according to Heidel.

The German city of Stuttgart was famous for a library collection of 3500 Bibles, printed in approximately 100 different languages.

Detroit Man Gets Lesson On Coast

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Next time somebody asks John Knowles if he is from Detroit, he's going to say "no!"

Knowles, an electrician, told police Thursday that boxer woman wearing a bright pink sweater handed him while he was driving his automobile with a Michigan license plate.

"Are you from Detroit?" the woman asked.

"Why, yes," replied Knowles.

"That's fine," said the gal, pulling a revolver out of her pink sweater. "Let's have your money."

Knowles said he handed over $760.

Ex-Serviceman Commits Suicide

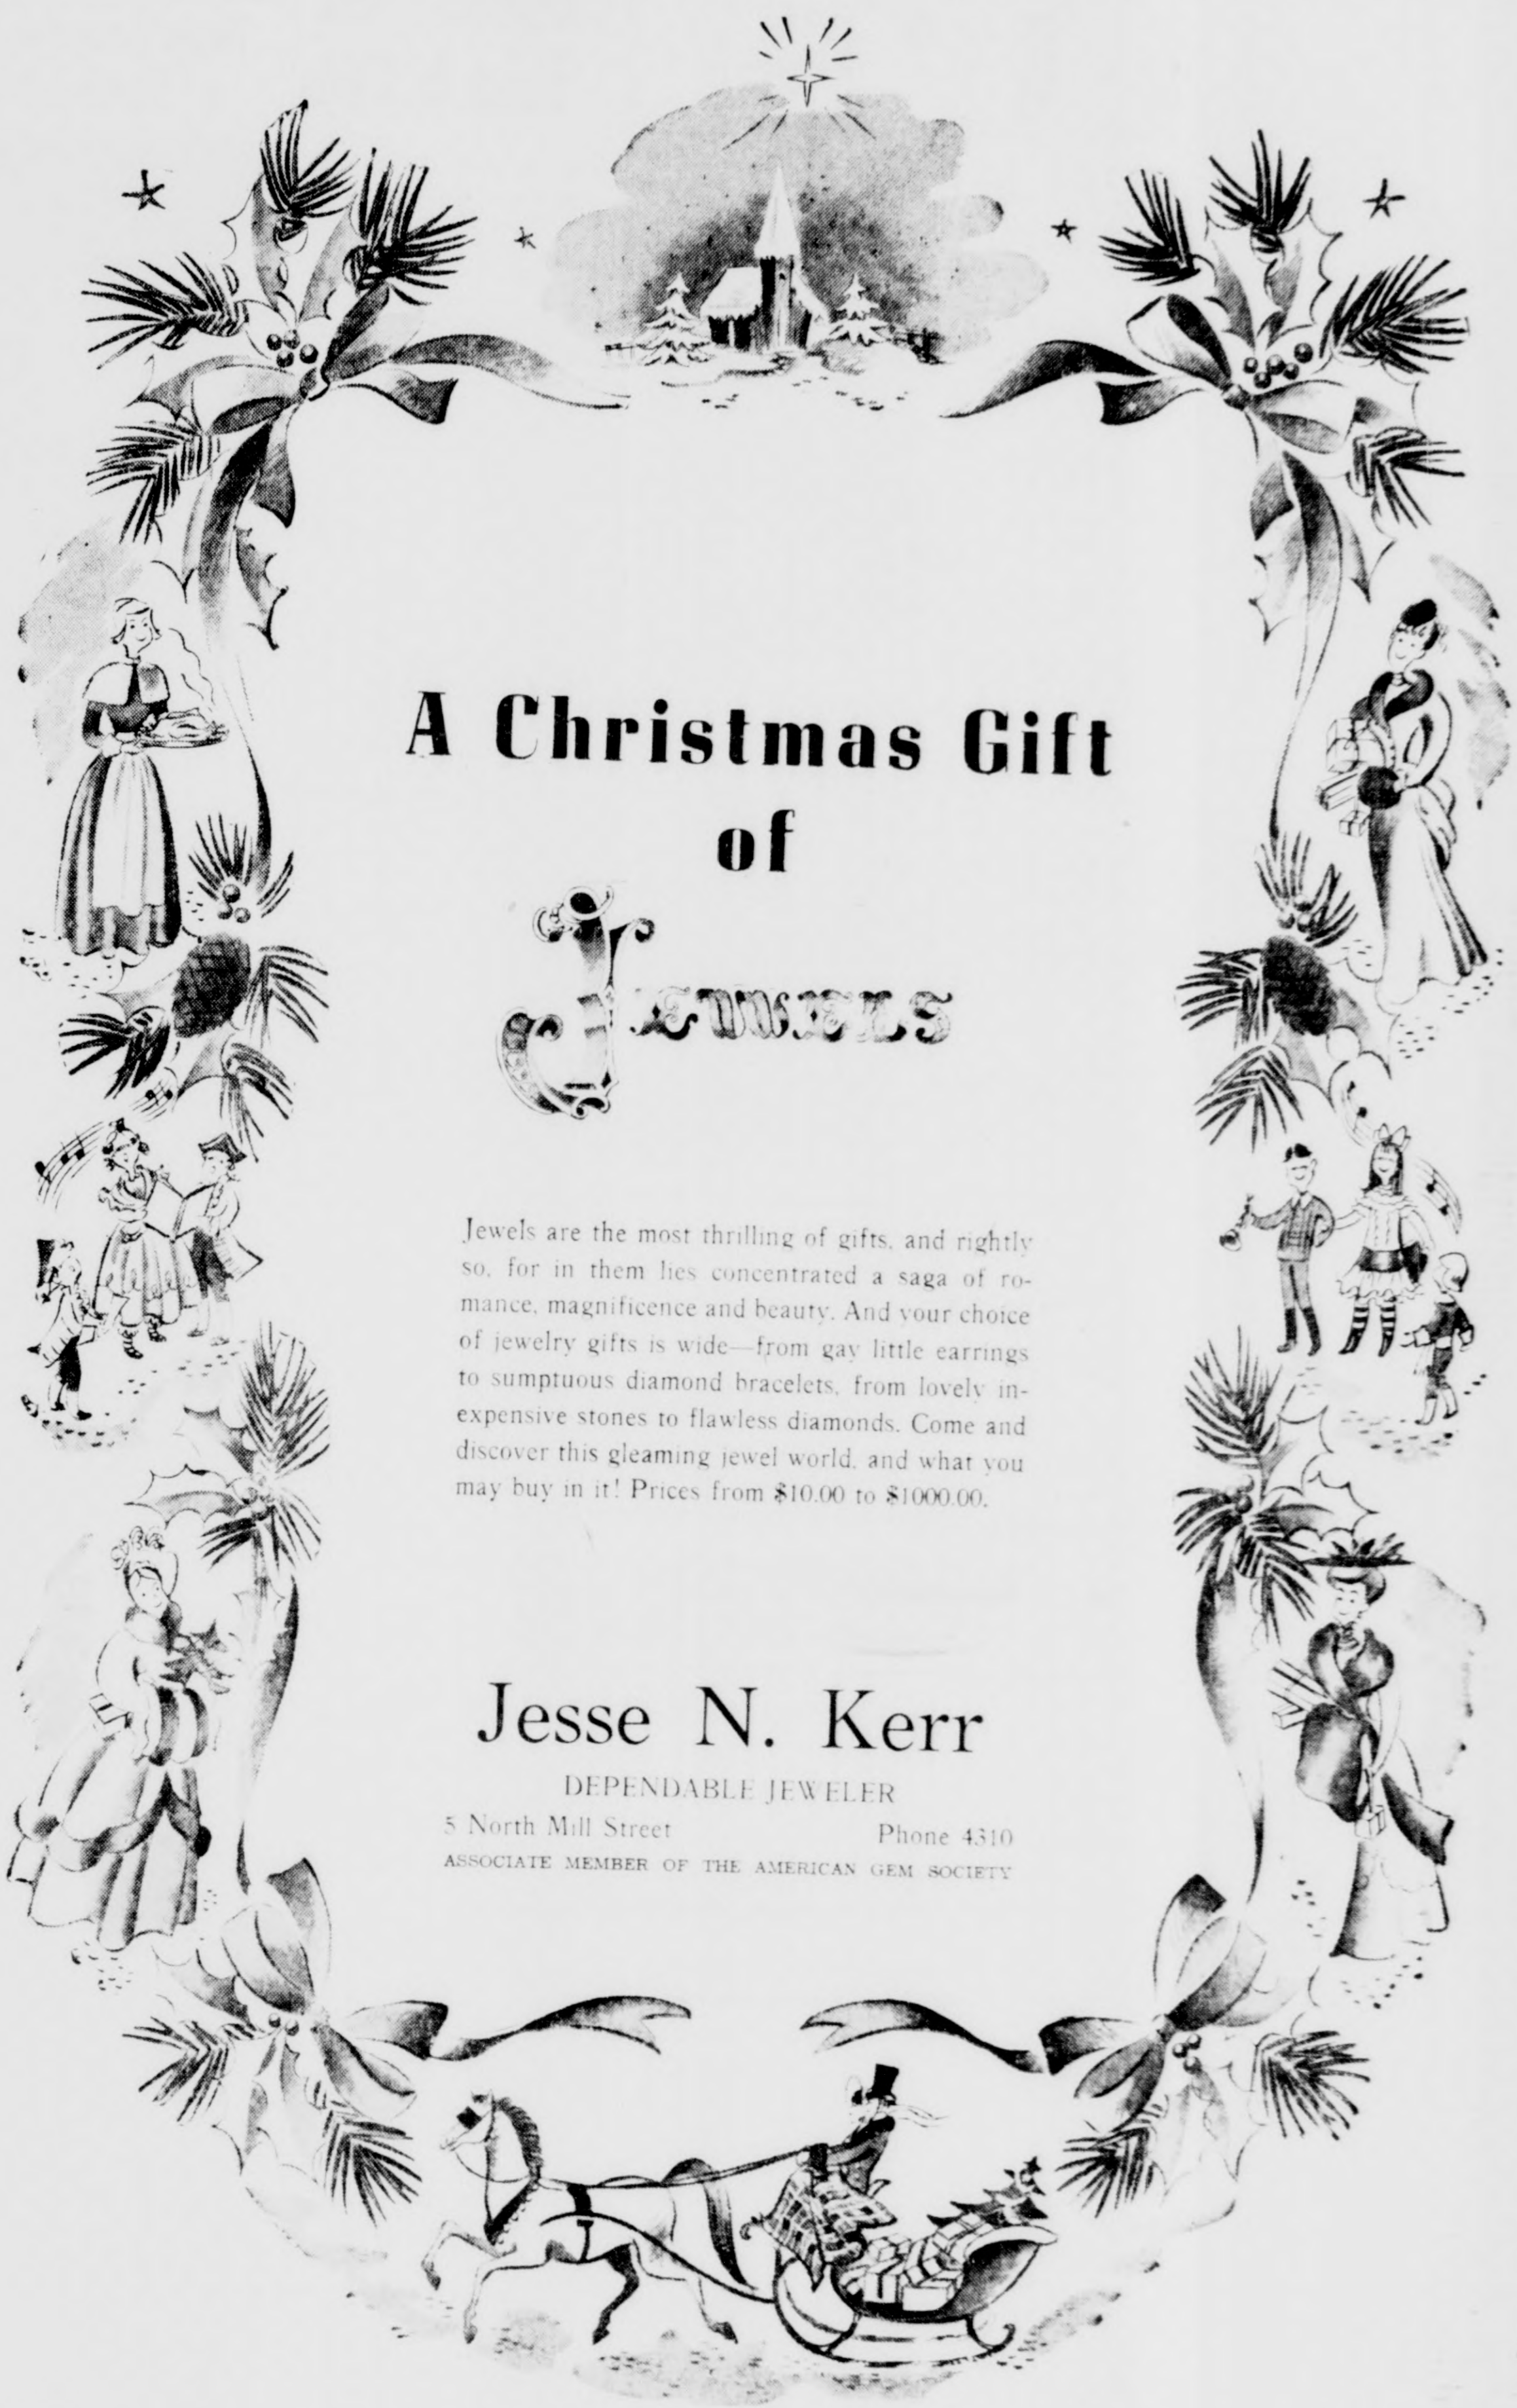

TANECK, N. J., Dec. 21.—William Henry Ayers, 25, recently discharged serviceman whose family said he was worried about readjustment to civilian life, descended to the basement of his home Thursday with a shotgun.

Shortly afterwards, his mother found him dead of a shotgun blast through the heart. Nearby lay several notes. In substance, they said:

"I bequeath the corns of my eyes to science, so that they may be used to restore the sight of a blind veteran."

Communists Seek Peace In China

Offer To Make Formal Presentation Of Armistice Offer To Chinese Nationalists

CHUNGKING, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Chinese communists offered today to make formal presentation of their armistice offer in order to secure central government changes it was made for propaganda purposes.

"We consider the proposal formal inasmuch as it was presented to the senior Kuomintang negotiator by the leader of the communist delegation," a Yenmu government spokesman said.

"But if the (Kuomintang) government requires, we will put it in writing and make it as formal as the government desires."

The communist proposal to end all fighting in China preparatory to peace discussions was made yesterday.

Four Weekly Is Murder Average In Paris Records

PARIS.—(INS)—Black market killers are on the prowl in Paris and today murders average about four a week.

Most of the killings are featured by savage brutality and in many cases the victims are killed with broken bottles and knives.

M. Lucien Pinault, chief crime investigator in Paris, is worried and pessimistic about the increase in killings which in 1938-39 averaged about two a month, but now run between 12 and 17.

"I am afraid this state of affairs will last for at least another 12 months," he said.

In a single week in the Paris area five persons were murdered—three women and two men. In each instance their was the motive, the type of killing the French call "crime crapuleux."

At the present time practically all these murders are connected with the black market.

M. Pinault says that people who have learned to acquire large sums of money by illegal deals will steal and kill rather than give up their easy and pleasant mode of living. He expects the crime wave to grow as the economic situation improves.

The same thing happened after the last war "but in much smaller proportion," he pointed out.

We are severely handicapped," he added. "The greater number of our inspectors have been busy arresting collaborators."

Some of them have been incorporated into newly formed brigades which deal only with political affairs. Others who collaborated are themselves awaiting trial.

"All the new recruits are youngsters without experience who must be trained carefully. Our means are limited. We cannot spend more than the budget allotted to us."

One inspector of the Special Crime Brigade has had two murders to investigate in five days. Caught money is another crime plague that is on the increase, but has been checked considerably in the past few weeks by a series of police raids.

Foreign Minister Hassan Saka was quoted as declaring that while Russia had not renounced her non-aggression treaty with Turkey, this did not lessen Turkey's desire to be friendly.

Ford Parley Is Suspended To January 8 Date

DETROIT, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The Ford Motor company and the UAW-CIO suspended contract negotiations until January 8, after the union told the company that its proffered raise of 12.4 per cent would not meet living costs.

Another conference between the UAW-CIO and Kaiser-Frazer, newcomer to the automobile manufacturing field, was cancelled today and scheduled for December 27. The company asked for additional time in which to prepare a counter-offer to the union's requests, for a 30 per cent pay increase over current Ford wages.

Richard T. Leonard, UAW-CIO director of the Ford division, said that "both sides can think things over during the holidays and probably work out some solution."

Nazis Stage Fake Battle As Excuse To Enter Poland

NUERNBERG, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Deals on how the Nazis faked a battle against the Poles to use as an excuse for the invasion of Poland were introduced today at the war crimes trial.

The testimony described how the Gestapo dressed German criminals to look like Poles and then killed them to make it appear as though a fight had been necessary.

The trick employed by the Nazis at the Polish-German border near Gleiwitz was brought out by U. S. Assistant Prosecutor Col. Robert Storey. The evidence was the last presented before the court adjourned until Jan. 2.

Attack Staged
Col. Storey introduced an affidavit from Alfred Naujoks describing how "Hangman" Heinrich Heydrich staged the attack on Aug. 30, 1939. The late Gestapo official employed the German criminals who were killed "to make the battle look more genuine."

One of the frankest German admissions to the mass killing of Jews yet presented was introduced when Storey unfolded a "top secret" chart in German under the heading of "Executions of Jews Accomplished by Task Force A."

The document showed a map of Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania and White Russia. Coffins were drawn in each area next to the figures of Jews killed.

The court also heard a detailed gruesome report to Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi party philosopher and one of the defendants, concerning a two-day campaign of annihilation in which the total Jewish population of Sobibor was wiped out.

Earlier prosecutors disclosed how Allied war prisoners by the thousands were forced to aid the rape of their homelands as brutalized slaves of the Nazi war machine.

Serving with the third marine division as a classification specialist, he arrived in San Francisco, Calif., proceeding to Bainbridge, Md., marine separation center, where he received his discharge.

Sgt. Crill's duties carried him into New Guinea, Guadalcanal, Russell Islands, Tarawa, Kwajalein, Iwo Jima, Eniwetok, Guam and Iwo Jima, where he was last stationed.

He received a special commendation from his commanding officer, Major Roy L. Sweet, for his outstanding work performed in addition to receiving the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with one star for the Iwo Jima invasion, American theater and the victory ribbon.

The former marine returned to his wife, Mrs. Jane Crill, 19 North Front street, and daughter Sandra Kay, whom he had not seen since she was 13 days old. Sgt. Crill's mother, Mrs. Grace Chain, resides at 912 Adams street.

Formerly connected with the Howard Johnson Agency as a personnel man, the discharged veteran will return to his former position.

Murder Victim

CHICAGO POLICE are trying to link the baffling lipstick murder of ex-WAVE Frances Brown and the victim of that city's latest murder, Lawrence A. Lang, above. The body of the latter, which had been slashed 14 times, was found in his luxuriously furnished apartment. Miss Brown's killer left a lurid message, written in lipstick on a wall, saying "For heaven's sake catch me before I kill more I cannot control myself." (International)

Sgt. William Runkle Leaves Army Duties

Sgt. William G. Runkle, received his honorable discharge from the Army at Fort Lewis, Washington following three years service, twelve months of which were spent in overseas capacity, with the 358th Air Service Group on Tinian Island.

Sgt. Runkle, who served as a member of a B-29 Bombing Crew that bombed the Japanese island, received the Good Conduct Medal, Victory Medal, Asiatic-Pacific service award with one battle star and the American Theater ribbon.

The discharged veteran who took his basic training at Fort Meade, Maryland and Fort Monmouth, New Jersey returned to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William N. Runkle, his wife Bonnie, and his small daughter Darlene at 110 South Walnut street.

He plans to return to the American Can company where he was formerly employed prior to entering service.

News Briefs From City Hall

Severe winter weather has had a tendency apparently to keep down disorder and as a result very few defendants have appeared before Mayor John F. Haven in police court during the past several days. Another contributing factor to the well being of Pa. News is that Christmas is near and people are kept busy shopping and spreading the yuletide spirit.

When city council meets Monday final action will be had on the proposed half million dollars bond indebtedness ordinance which will be used for postwar construction here. The sewers are in bad shape, according to city officials, and city needs require a more modern municipal structure, they have reported.

Pire and police cars are equipped with chains and are driven with caution during the present bad weather period. Police have been given orders by Chief Robert D. Hanna to comb all alleys at night so that anyone who imbibes too freely and becomes stupefied will not expire from exposure.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse S. Joseph have moved from West Edison avenue to 106 West Garfield avenue.

Suggest Plan To Reach Quota In E Bond Sales

County Leaders Urge People
Of New Castle And County To Increase Purchases

In an exchange of letters today, Co-Chairman Joel S. McKee and Chairman W. Walter Braham of the Lawrence County War Finance Committee make suggestions as to how Lawrence county can make its quota of "E" bonds. Today the county stands at 86 per cent, in second place in the Fort Pitt area bond competition. The letters follow:

Honorable W. Walter Braham,
Chairman, Lawrence County War
Finance Committee,
New Castle, Pennsylvania.

My dear Judge:
I cannot avoid admiring the gallant front being carried on by Mr. C. M. England and his loyal organization of workers in order to keep the record of Lawrence county from going down to defeat in this eighth and final bond drive.

Are there not four thousand patriotic citizens in the county out of a population of nearly one hundred thousand, who will come forward and buy a one hundred dollar "E" bond at seventy-five dollars per bond?

What a wonderful expression of gratitude it would show to our brave boys from Lawrence county who stood as a shield between us and peril in the dark days, some paying the supreme sacrifice!

It would be a shame if we approach so near the end of the journey and fail in the last mile, when the goal for a perfect record is in sight. Can we do something to arouse the winning spirit in our people? What better Yuletide gift than a Victory bond? Seriously, can Lawrence county afford to fail now?

Yours for the success of the Victory Loan Campaign,
JOEL S. MCKEE,
Co-Chairman

Mr. Joel S. McKee,
Co-Chairman Lawrence County
War Finance Committee,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Mr. McKee:
I thank you for your recent letter with reference to our Victory Loan drive. Like yourself, I am proud of the efforts which have enabled us to reach all of our quotas except the "E" bond quota in this last drive. After leading the whole of western Pennsylvania for weeks in the sale of "E" bonds, we have dropped below Indiana county and may not even make our quota. This would be a lamentable ending to the fine patriotic record of our people in seven previous campaigns.

Your suggestion of four thousand people to buy a one hundred dollar bond is excellent and I join you; but I would wish the effort.

The key point is our city of New Castle. We have raised 47.2% of our "E" bond quota. The area average for the Fort Pitt area is 70.8%. Ellwood City has sold 136 of its "E" bond quota, New Wilmington more than 200.

Our workers in New Castle have worked faithfully but not enough people have bought bonds. Not necessarily big ones, but bonds, little ones and big ones. For Christmas presents, for rewards to faithful employees, for a place to invest children's funds. Another bond in every family! This is the spirit to win.

I am sorry to have to say these things about my own town but our people must wake up.

Cordially yours,
W. WALTER BRAHAM,
Chairman

Declare Polio Is Spread By Humans

Studies By Medical Groups Give
New Ideas On Spread Of Infantile Paralysis

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Infantile paralysis, carried from person to person has a definite pattern and may actually reach epidemic stages before any paralytic cases are recognized in the community.

The Journal of the American Medical Association said today that studies by two medical groups, in Buffalo, N. Y., and Chicago, indicated that human beings and not flies or other insects play the major role in the spread of the disease.

The Buffalo study group reported that minor cases of the disease went unrecognized before the epidemic became known. They said school children reported minor illnesses, many of which were undoubtedly caused by the virus of poliomyelitis, the month before the outbreak of paralytic cases.

The doctors working in Chicago found that multiple cases of the disease in the family were "the rule rather than the exception" when the children's ages ranged from 1½ to 8½ years.

The disease was found to be contagious "perhaps to the degree of 90 per cent" in the 1½ to 1½ age group but less infectious in older groups.

Tells Why Yanks Are Delayed In Reaching Homes

Top Commanders At San Francisco Answer Question On Delay At Coast Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The top commander of the nation's busiest receiving port for returning overseas soldiers gave the army's answer today to a question on millions of American lips and in millions of American hearts. The question is: "Why aren't our boys getting home sooner—in time for Christmas?"

Maj. Gen. Homer M. Groninger, commanding general of the San Francisco port of embarkation, gave his explanation in an exclusive interview with International News Service.

Perhaps 100,000 Pacific army and navy vets rushed to the west coast in a unique troop movement called "operation Santa Claus" will not eat their turkey at home and exchange "ah's" with their families over their gifts for Christmas.

Has Silver Lining

But the army doesn't think this dark cloud is without a silver lining. We believe, said Gen. Groninger, that it is better to have these soldiers spend their Christmas in San Francisco than in some far off Pacific outpost.

This writer asked the general whether many "beefs" had filtered through to him from vets who landed on the Pacific coast, expecting to be home by Christmas, only to find their chances of getting transportation were practically nil.

Groninger acknowledged that of course the resources are disappointed, but added:

Soldiers Reasonable

"The reaction of the men generally has been splendid. They are taking it in good spirits. Soldiers are always reasonable when they understand the situation."

Besides, he went on, the army, the Red Cross and various civilian organizations and private citizens are working hard to arrange as cheery a Christmas as possible for the men who will be left behind on the west coast until after the holiday.

Groninger, who directs one of the army's biggest post-war tasks, predicted that public impatience over the shortcomings of operation Santa Claus will calm down after Christmas. This together with an anticipated increase in transportation means will enhance the prospect of breaking the present backlog of vets piling up along the coast.

Employment Of Women In State Shows Little Drop

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Since the war's end, employment of women workers in Western Pennsylvania has dropped only 7 per cent, Robert M. McCullough, manager of the United States Employment Service in Pittsburgh today disclosed.

McCullough said that the little effect, reconversion for war production has had on this region's industries was the cause of such a small decrease in the number of women workers.

Western Pennsylvania, predominated by heavy industrial labor, at no time hired any large percentage of women. Most of the jobs available were laboring positions which the majority of women could not handle.

Mt. Jackson U. P. To Have Pageant

This evening at 8 o'clock the Christmas pageant entitled "With Gladness Men of Old" will be presented at the Mt. Jackson U. P. church. Mrs. Willie Craig and Mrs. Norma Lee Gledhill will serve as readers throughout the entertainment.

Musical will be contributed during the evening by the church choir. The climax of the pageant will be the offering of white gifts by the congregation. These gifts will be given to the Salvation Army and will be later distributed to the needs of the community.

Santa Claus will also have a part in the evening's entertainment. A table will be set up in preparation for preparing vegetables for cooking and canning.

An operetta entitled "The Magi's Gift" was presented by grades three to six of the Union township consolidated schools Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium.

The story, based on the legend that each Christmas bestowing gifts of gold to all who chance to meet, was well received by members of the audience present.

The operetta which was presented under the supervision of Mrs. Margaret Carr, Miss Betty Robinson, Miss Olive Ziebler, Mrs. Kathleen Wilson and Miss Angeline Venditto, was interspersed by carol singing under the direction of Miss Robinson.

Blind Young Pianist Adopted By Ninth Air Force And Brought To U. S. Making Progress

NEWTON, Mass., Dec. 21.—(INS)—Ten-year-old Jimmy Osborn, blind pianist, will have a Christmas present "three minutes long." It's to be a telephone call to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Osborn, of Essex, England.

The Yuletide gift was arranged today by Mr. and Mrs. John B. Butler, Butler is head of the department of practical arts at Perkins Institute for the Blind in Watertown, where Jimmy is studying. The British lad was taken there after being "adopted" and brought to the United States by members of the Ninth Air Force. The airmen took it upon themselves to finance Jimmy's education after hearing him render everything from Bach to "Boogie."

Jimmy spends most of his time with his classmates but occasionally gets homesick for England. He plays baseball, and once hit a two-bagger.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Arthur B. Homer, vice president of Bethlehem Steel corporation in charge of its shipbuilding division since May, 1940, today was the newly elected president of the corporation.

E. G. Grace was chosen chairman of the board. Homer has been associated with the company since 1919. He is 49, and a native of Belmont, Mass. He was a lieutenant in the submarine service in World War I, and is a graduate of Brown university.

Musical Program At First Methodist

An impressive Christmas choral service has been arranged for the First Methodist church, Jefferson and North streets, Sunday morning when Christmas music will be sung by the combined choirs of the church—church choir, the youth choir and the chapel choir—of 70 voices.

They will sing antiphonally "While Shepherds Watched Their Sheep," at XVII century melody, arranged by Junast-Dickinson, and "As Lately We Watched," an Austrian folk song, arranged by Charles Black. Mrs. J. Carl Mixer will play piano accompaniment.

The choir is under the direction of Edwin Lewis, organist and director of music. Dr. Burr R. McKnight will also present the second in the Christmas Chimes series of sermons, "Christmas Bells at Home."

Tableau Sunday At South Side Church

First Congregational church, 100 East Reynolds street, on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock will have a candle-light service and tableau at the church.

The manuscript for this tableau of the Holy Nativity was prepared especially for a Sunday evening 1900 hours 24th December, 1944, at an assembly tent somewhere in France. It was arranged by a New Guinea man, Cpl. Paul B. McCandless of 365 East North street.

During the service special honor will be paid to those on the church's honor roll who fell in action and to all the men and women who were in the Armed Forces.

Robert Morris was the United States first financier. In May 1781, Morris presented to Congress the plan for the Bank of North America, the first bank for general purposes in the country. The financial operations relative to the raising of independence during the Revolutionary War were carried on chiefly by Morris.

Carlan Baby Goes To Grave Today

Neighbors Preparing Christmas For Mother, Father And Surviving Brother

CHELSEA, Mass., Dec. 21.—(INS)—Mrs. Rose Carlan buried her kidnap-louis baby today while neighbors prepared a festive Christmas for the young wife, her 3-year old son, Jimmy and her sailor husband, James.

Private services were held for Ronnie, whose body was found stuffed beneath a cupboard in the Carlan home after a frantic 10-day search for kidnaper when Mrs. Carlan accused of taking the child.

The attractive Mrs. Carlan is 34, on $2300 a month, and has been 10 when Charles police and they would present "new evidence," however, Judge John W. McLeod commented that "this case will probably be an unsolved riddle."

The Carlans didn't plan on much of a celebration for Christmas, but their neighbors have different ideas. They are arranging packages today and have other plans to assure the Carlans a joyous holiday.

Election Case Opinions Filed

Ellwood City And Mahoning Township Contest Decisions Handed Down

Two opinions in contested election cases came down from the Lawrence county court, one from Judge W. Walter Braham in the Mahoning township contest, in Ellwood City and one from Judge John G. Lamoree in the contested election for 1946 supervisor in Mahoning township. The opinion of Judge Braham is final insofar as the question immediately before him is concerned. In the Mahoning township case an order was made but a final opinion is to come later.

Judge Braham's opinion and order declares "no contest" in the race between John Minceo, Republican, and Nick Landi, Democrat, for a city councilman's post in Ellwood City. This was a case where an error in the preparation of the ballot was made.

In the second ward of Ellwood City the first precinct lies entirely in Lawrence county. The second precinct lies in Beaver county but the citizens there vote for council and school board in Ellwood City. In the councilman's race Mr. Landi led in the first precinct by a vote of 158 to 148.

In the second precinct the Beaver county election board had permitted upon the ballots the names of Philip DeSanzo and Elmer S. Greenham as the candidates instead of Landi and Minceo.

On election day, November 6, Mr. Minceo had stickers printed and his friends voted for him in the second precinct on those stickers. Mr.

Landi had stickers prepared but upon advice of counsel did not use them. The vote as recorded showed Minceo 97, Landi 7, enough to swing the election to Minceo if the count as shown was made official.

Landi filed a petition to have himself declared the winner but Judge Braham ruled "no contest" and the case must now select a councilman for the second ward. The order reads "without delay" which is taken to mean that the present council would make the appointment. An appeal from this phase of the opinion is possible which might hold the selection over until the new council was inducted.

Mahoning Township
In the Mahoning township case Anthony Minceo, Republican, and Francis Gregg, Democrat, opposed each other for road supervisor. The unofficial count showed Minceo ahead. Gregg had a box opened and picked up sufficient votes to put him in the lead by one vote. Minceo then had a box opened and found four additional votes which made him the apparent winner by three votes.

Judge Lamoree has ordered the count as it now stands to be made a part of the official record which seems to indicate that he is declaring the winner. There will be an opinion handed down by Judge Lamoree which will open the way for an appeal if Gregg decides to appeal the decision of the lower court.

National Guard Of 40,000 Men Is Planned In State

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Dec. 21.—INS—A peace time Pennsylvania national guard composed of more than 40,000 officers and men including 11,391 men in the 28th division was proposed today by military officials drafting the reorganization.

Brig. Gen. E. J. Stackpole of Harrisburg, supervising the revision under a commission from Gov. Edward Martin, proposed the following blueprint to augment the "Bloody Bucket" division during a meeting of veteran guard officers at the Indiantown Gap military reservation.

An armored division, an infantry combat team, three air squadrons with ground echelons and an anti-aircraft brigade, a mechanized cavalry squadron, a military police battalion and a chemical mortar battalion.

The estimated strength of the basic units would be 31,164 men with the balance of the guard composed of other units.

Stackpole said the list did not include tank destroyer battalions, tank units distinguished from the armored forces, medical troops or service troops.

Headquarters for the P. N. G. will be opened in the department of military affairs at the state capital January 7, 1946, he added.

Hot Dog First Demand Of Vets

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—INS—The first thing the returning GI asks for when he sets foot on the good old U.S.A. is—you guessed it—a hot dog!

Consequently, the Army has purchased lots of wienies and has even set up stoves on the piers to provide the homecoming vets with that most typical of American delicacies as they step off their ships. But the Army can't get any bun because of a San Francisco bakery wagon drivers' strike. And—as everyone knows—a hot dog without a bun isn't a hot dog at all, not even with mustard.

Troop Carrier Limping Home

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—INS—An emergency call for help from a troop-laden LST off the Farallon Islands today sent Coast Guard rescue craft into action.

The captain of the LST reported that his craft was shipping water through the ramp in the prow. A later message said the LST was proceeding safely but Coast Guard boats were standing-by for possible rescue action.

The LST was believed to be one of three similar ships due at San Francisco today with returning Navy and Marine corps personnel.

AROUND CITY HALL

When council met Thursday in city hall members reported favorably from committee ordinances providing for the appropriation of approximately $772,500 for the operation of the city next year and also designating the tax levy at 13 mills, the same as was effective this year. The ordinances will be printed and passed at the first meeting next month.

What is known in city employee circles as "The Ghost" walked today, or in other words, it is their Christmas payday.

Policeman George Price made a valuable find this morning—a bag of flour which fell from a truck. It is at police headquarters.

City of New Castle has paid the County Commissioners $3,932.70, a lot taken for delinquent taxes by the city, in Jones Street, at the top of the State Street hill which was required to improve the hill.

During the past several nights police combed alleys and empty streets to find any person who may have inebriated too freely and become stupified. One man who laid down in a street had his feet frozen.

City of New Castle next March will receive its first share of the refund from state gasoline tax. Payment for three months will be paid and what the city receives will be based on mileage. There are more than 80 miles of streets here.

Charge Japanese Government Issues False Cry Of 'Wolf'

General MacArthur's Headquarters Says Japanese Nation Is Not Near Starvation

TOKYO, Dec. 21.—(INS)—General MacArthur's headquarters today accused the Japanese government of falsely crying "wolf" on the food situation and flatly said the Japanese were not in danger of starvation.

Col. Crawford F. Sams of MacArthur's public health welfare section, said the Japanese will have relatively more food this winter than the defeated Europeans.

Sams also said that Japan was never able to feed herself properly because of the "Zaibatsu monopoly on fertilizer, the absentee landowner system and lack of farm machinery."

He conspicuously omitted reference to the lack of acreage which always has been the Japanese excuse for an inadequate food supply and for need of expansion by war.

Nowhere Near Starvation
Sams said the Japanese people are nowhere near starvation and their main problem is maldistribution. The allies propose to "see that the Japanese correct this to assure that the little man gets his fair share of available food," he said.

The colonel pointed out that American bombing destroyed only a small fraction of food supplies but that transportation breakdowns may prevent distribution.

In some cases farmers are refusing to harvest more than they need for themselves.

Meanwhile, the allied censorship section moved to prevent unfavorable reaction to MacArthur's directives by banning press speculation on forthcoming orders.

The ban came after the Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri revealed headquarters was preparing a directive to postpone the general elections in January to give time for preparation of a blacklist of politicians ineligible for election.

Telephone Calls At Holiday Peak

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania is now handling an all-time record number of calls, with day-to-day long distance traffic now one third heavier than last year.

The holiday rush has caused some delays on calls to the Middle West, Pacific Coast and the South. Service to nearby points, however, are expected to be prompt.

The company emphasizes the necessity of keeping the calls brief as many servicemen will be away from their homes over the holidays and their calls should have the priority.

Greatest demands for long distance service are looked for on Christmas and New Year's Eve.

Bandits Are Sought For Three Holdups In Pittsburgh Today

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Police sought today two armed bandits who attempted two holdups, wounding one victim and succeeded in robbing a third of $150 all in four hours.

John Buzzelli, 30, discharged veteran, was wounded in the hip when he resisted the pair after they entered a storehouse he was converting into a restaurant. He said they fled without obtaining loot.

Two hours later James Will, 68, was hit on the head with a revolver when he resisted two men who entered his tailor shop. Again the bandits fled without profit.

The actual robbery occurred when the cashier of a theater was relieved of two cash boxes.

Police said only one of the men was armed and expressed the belief all three affairs involved the same twosome.

Abandon Hope Of Curing Girl In Pittsburgh

BALTIMORE, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The Christmas hopes of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Anello of Philadelphia were dashed today as they learned there was no cure for the heart ailment of their six-year-old daughter, Susie.

The little girl's parents had taken her to Johns Hopkins hospital, in the hopes that doctors could find a curative by Christmas.

Susie, a "blue baby," is suffering from a heart malformation which results in a deficiency of oxygenated blood.

Dr. Helen B. Tausig, who had aided in the cure of a similar case, said following an examination of the child that an operation would not be of any value.

Program Presented At North Street

Boys and girls from the North street grade school presented their annual Christmas program this afternoon, before the school assembly, after which they were dismissed for the holidays bidding farewell to their books and teachers until next year.

The program had to be somewhat curtailed due to the prevalent illness prevalent in the city, but those who had parts in the program, and were not ill, participated in the presentation.

The entertainment which consisted of carol singing and dialogues, was under the direction of Miss Mary Emery, Miss May Martin and Mrs. Margaret Hosan.

At Last, Science To Ease Worries Of Expectant Papa

Broadcast From Delivery Room To Keep Fathers From Pacing

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Modern science, which for years has worked to make child bearing easier for women, moved today to do something for the old man, too. It is to be done with loud speakers.

If a proposal by Ruz E. Heerman, manager of the California hospital at Los Angeles, becomes standard practice, future fathers may listen to a broadcast something like this:

"Here we are in the delivery room of the such-and-such hospital, presiding at the birth of a little bundle of heaven for Mr. and Mrs. Roger So-and-So. Are you listening, Mr. So-and-So? Everything is going nicely. There's good news to-morrow. You are the father of a fine baby boy, Mr. So-and-So. And your wife is doing well."

In the modern hospital magazine today appeared Heerman's proposal for a microphone in the delivery room, connected with a loud speaker in the waiting room where prospective papa prays, paces and pesters.

The theory is that father will stay close to the speaker, and not parade up and down the corridor, haunting the delivery room door and buttonholing every doctor, nurse, interne and orderly who happens by for the latest developments.

Plan Tableau At Bethany Church

On Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the church school room of Bethany Lutheran Church, the members of the school will present a play and tableau entitled, "The Little Shepherd," the story of David a little shepherd who could not go to Bethlehem to see the Holy Child, but who did really see Him just the same.

The role of David will be played by Richard Dean. Betty Hill will take the part of a little girl who visits the shepherd boy. Mrs. Adah Gosnell, as speaker of the prologue, will set the time and place of the story. Characters in the tableau, which form an interesting part of the play, are as follows: The Angel, Dorothea Thompson; Mary, Mrs.

Thelma Powell; Joseph, Curtis Powell; The Wise Men, Eugene Reynolds; James King and Wilbur King; the Shepherds, Donald Turner, Joe Gaston and James Matthews. A children's choir is to sing carols during the progress of the play.

Boy Scouts Will Assist Bond Drive

Troops Plan House-To-House Canvass To Assist E Bond Sales

In cooperation with the Lawrence County War Finance Committee, the Boy Scouts of the city are being recruited to make a house-to-house campaign to assist the lagging E Bond drive.

This effort has been planned to bring the city's total up before the close of the campaign, December 31.

Special awards will be given to the troops that come out on top in their campaign. A bonus of $100 will be divided among the troops according to the number of sales made. There must be at least 150 sales made. In the event that a fewer number are made, $50 will be divided instead of $100.

In addition, each scout who makes one or more sales will be presented with a green and yellow bar pin which may be worn on the uniform or other clothes.

Seek End Of Civil Strife In Java

BATAVIA, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Rocket-firing mosquitos and British flame-throwers dropping 500-pound bombs today destroyed a number of roadblocks and Indonesian strong points in the Soerabaya area of Java.

The Netherlands News Agency said it reported from Singapore that several hundred Dutch marines who had been trained in the United States arrived off the Malay coast. The dispatch said the reinforcements made the trip aboard the Dutch steamer Noodam.

Meanwhile, Gen. Sir Philip Christison, Allied Netherlands Indies commander, was believed preparing to confer with other British military authorities on measures necessary to end the civil strife in Java.

The African finch is declared by naturalists to have a vocabulary of approximately 300 words.

Cattle are dehorned in late fall or early spring to avoid winter colds and summer flies.

School Groups Use Novel Plan Decorating Trees

Study is study, and fun is fun and never the twain shall meet, you used to think when you were behind the schoolroom desk.

At least two groups of students would disagree with you on that score, and point to their Christmas trees to prove it. The classes are the first grade at Arthur McGill and a solid geometry class of Junior B's at Senior High school.

Remember the Theorem?

Getting their inspiration from a theorem which states that there are only five regular polyhedrons, and that, no matter how hard you try, you can not add another one to the list of tetrahedrons, hexahedron, octahedron, dodecahedron, and icosahedron, the class made themselves some polyhedrons out of colored paper and proceeded to combine the forms with pyramids, circles, and cones.

The intricate forms were then decorated with sparkling "glitter" or metallic and hung on the Christmas tree which brightens the back of Mrs. Sara McClure's room. That, the students agree, is a delightful way to absorb mathematics.

First graders at Arthur McGill have been stimulated to plan and design, and to coordinate their thoughts with their fingers by making all of their decorations for the large, lighted tree which stands in their room. Under the supervision of Miss Helen Maxwell, the youngsters made Santa Claus, angels, reindeer, handsome elephants, camels, boots, bells, and stars out of paper and decorated them with the sparkling "glitter." To work in some variety, they also used "glitter" covered spoons, and tin can lids, sparkling little boxes, and colored paper chains. Pleased with their work, the children composed a poem about their tree.

Eight Inches Of Snow At Erie, Pa.

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 21.—(INS)—Eight inches of snow fell on the city last night, tying up traffic as the mercury skidded to eight above zero.

The storm, which moved in from Canada, was of the same nature that virtually cut Erie off from the rest of the world last year.

Meanwhile, 42 coastguardsmen, who were marooned on the Erie peninsula in an earlier storm, made their way into Erie by walking across ice formations on Presque Isle Bay. Erie has had 21 inches of snow in December.

Financier Plans New Sleeping Cars

CLEVELAND, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Possibility that Railroad Financier Robert R. Young will compete with other railroads in operating sleeping car service was seen in Cleveland today in the announcement of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co. of an invitation for bids on 1,000 lightweight sleeping cars.

Young and his financial associates, Otis & Co. and Alton O. Kirby, were unsuccessful in their attempt to purchase interests of the Pullman company, operator of the sleeping-car service of Pullman, Inc.

Want Germany's War Potential Destroyed Now

FEA Report Urges Elimination Of Reich's Capacity To Wage War

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The foreign economic administration declared today that Germany's war potential must be eliminated while the Reich is under Allied occupation.

The enemy branch of the FEA in its final advisory report asserted that international arrangements for the use of force to prevent further acts of aggression must be supplemented in Germany's case by elimination or control of its industrial capacity to make war.

"An essential element of our foreign policy," the report said, "should be to secure the creation and maintenance of all such necessary arrangements."

The 500-page report, made public by the Senate subcommittee on war investigations, stated:

"Although Germany is a militarily defeated nation, the economic potential of her aggression, the resources of her industry, the organization of her economy, are still available or can be made available by appropriate measures. It is essential to alter fundamentally the base and orientation of the German war economy."

Former Slave, 104, Heart Attack Victim

Boom For Martin For U. S. Senate Is Given Boost

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—(INS)—A boom to seat Gov. Edward Martin in the U. S. Senate today drew an official boost from one of Pennsylvania's high Republican powers.

The endorsement came from GOP National Committeeman G. Mervin Owlett, chief lieutenant of former Sen. Joseph R. Grundy, millionaire Berks county manufacturer and Republican chairman.

Owlett told International News Service that "if Governor Martin decides to run for United States senator next year, he will have the united support of all Republicans, as well as a great many Democrats."

The national committeeman explained that the chief executive's accomplishments in Pennsylvania during the war years, coupled with his long colorful military and political career, had made him the outstanding contender for the senatorial seat occupied by Sen. Joseph F. Guffy.
